MORE SUITS FILED AGAINST CITY

JAMES C. PHILLIPS AND ATTORNEY ALF C. KREMER NOW.

OVER GRADE ON WEST SIDE

Claimed That It Was Not Completed As Promised.

James C. Phillips and Attorney Alf C. Kremer began suit against the city of Butte this morning, owing to the change of grade on the west side and with the constant increasing number, the courts will soon be tied up with the trial of these actions alone.

Both Phillips and Kremer signed waivers for damages when the plan for the proposed change in grade was submitted to them, but they allege that the plan was not carried out, and the grade was raised considerably more than at first stated. Phillips alleges that the street grade in front of his house was raised nine and a half feet, and Kremer states that in front of his residence it was raised seven and a half feet. Each asks for $1,500, of which $1,000 is for damages and $550 for building a retaining wall.
